

Figure 1 consists of two line graphs. The left graph shows the percentage of respondents who are 'Very concerned' (solid line) and 'Somewhat concerned' (dashed line) about global warming from 1990 to 1998. The right graph shows the percentage of respondents who are 'Very concerned' (solid line) and 'Somewhat concerned' (dashed line) about global warming from 1990 to 1998. Both graphs show a general upward trend in concern over time.
